WHEREAS, approximately 90% of Americans consume too much sodium, increasing their risk of having high blood pressure; and

WHEREAS, because nearly 400,000 deaths each year are attributed to high blood pressure, decreasing sodium intake could prevent thousands of deaths annually; and

WHEREAS, because the majority of sodium that people consume is already present in foods before purchase or preparation, reducing sodium intake may require increased availability and accessibility of lower sodium items; and

WHEREAS, the grant expects to achieve at least two of the following short-term outcomes by the end of the project period: (1) the increased availability of lower sodium food products (i.e., presence of lower sodium foods in the environment); (2) increased accessibility of lower sodium food products (i.e., presence of lower sodium foods available in a form, location, price and time that facilitates their consumption); and (3) increased purchase/selection of low sodium food products; and

WHEREAS, the San Antonio Metropolitan Health District is requesting authorization to accept funds in an amount up to $240,982.00 to continue to support the identification and refinement of effective strategies in implementing community-wide efforts to reduce sodium intake; NOW THEREFORE:
