HDRC CASE NO: 2021-208
ADDRESS: 828 NEVADA
LEGAL DESCRIPTION: NCB 3100 BLK LOT 8
ZONING: RM-4
CITY COUNCIL DIST.: 2
APPLICANT: OFFICE OF HISTORIC PRESERVATION
OWNER: JCCH PROPERTY SOLUTIONS LLC
TYPE OF WORK: Recommendation for Historic Landmark Designation
CASE MANAGER: Jessica Anderson

REQUEST:

The Office of Historic Preservation is requesting a recommendation from the Historic and Design Review Commission regarding designation of the property at 828 Nevada.

APPLICABLE CITATIONS:

Unified Development Code Sec. 35-606. - Designation Process for Historic Landmarks.

- a. Authority. Requests for landmark designation may only be made by or with the concurrence of the property owner. In instances where a property owner does not consent to the landmark designation, the historic preservation officer shall request a resolution from city council to proceed with the designation process prior to any zoning commission hearing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a request for landmark designation may be made and approved by the city council. To the extent that this subsection conflicts with any other provisions of this chapter, this paragraph shall control except for buildings, objects, sites, structures, or clusters heretofore designated as local landmarks or districts, National Register landmarks or districts, state historic landmarks or sites, or state archaeological landmarks or sites. Additionally, requests for designation shall be made on a form obtained from the city historic preservation officer through the office of historic preservation. Completed request forms shall be returned to the office of historic preservation for processing. All buildings, objects, sites, structures, or clusters heretofore designated by the city council as historic landmarks under any pre-existing ordinance of the City of San Antonio shall be accorded the protection of properties designated historic landmarks under this chapter and shall continue to bear the words "historic, exceptional" (HE) or "historic, significant" (HS) in their zoning designation.
- b. Designation of Historic Landmarks.
 1. Initiation. Any person, the historic and design review commission, zoning commission, the historic preservation officer, or the city council may initiate a historic landmark designation by filing an application with the historic preservation officer. Requests for designation shall be made on a form obtained from the city historic preservation officer. Completed request forms shall be returned to the office of historic preservation for processing. Owner consent for historic landmark designation shall be required unless a city council resolution to proceed with the designation has been approved. Additionally, owners may submit with the application a written description and photographs or other visual material of any buildings or structures that they wish to be considered for designation as non-contributing to the historic landmark.
 2. Decision. The historic preservation officer shall refer a completed application for historic landmark designation to the historic and design review commission. Property owners of proposed historic landmarks shall be notified of the historic and design review commission hearing by the historic preservation officer by mail prior to a historic and design review commission hearing for historic landmark designation. Notice to property owners shall state the place, date, time and purpose of the historic and design review commission hearing. The historic preservation officer shall also send notice of the meeting to any registered neighborhood associations located within the proposed district boundary. The historic and design review commission shall make and forward its recommendation to the zoning commission within forty-five (45) days from the date of submittal of the designation request by the historic preservation officer. Upon submittal of the historic and design review commission's recommendation, the proposed historic district or landmark designation shall be submitted to the zoning commission for its review recommendations along with its finding of historic significance. The zoning commission and the city council shall process the application as prescribed in section 35-421 of this chapter and this section. The zoning commission shall schedule a hearing on the historic and design review commission recommendation to be held within sixty (60) days of receipt of such recommendation and shall forward its recommendation to city council which shall schedule a hearing to be held within sixty (60) days of council's receipt of such recommendation. Upon passage of any ordinance designating a historic landmark, or removing or upgrading the designation of historic, the city clerk shall send notice of the fact by mail to the owner or owners of affected property.

FINDINGS:

- a. On March 17, 2021, the Historic and Design Review Commission approved a Finding of Historic Significance for the property at 828 Nevada. On April 15, 2021, City Council approved Resolution 2021-04-01-0027R initiating a change in zoning for the property to include a historic landmark overlay. As a step in the zoning process, a recommendation regarding the proposed designation is required from the HDRC.
- b. The City offers a tax incentive for the substantial rehabilitation of historic properties because historic landmarks possess cultural and historical value and contribute to the overall quality and character of the City and its neighborhoods. If historic designation is approved, rehabilitation and restoration work may be eligible for this incentive. State and Federal tax incentives are also available for properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places and provide substantial relief for rehabilitation projects.
- c. City Council has the ultimate authority to approve the historic designation zoning overlay. A recommendation from HDRC will be forwarded to City Council.
- d. Per UDC Sec. 35-453, once the commission makes a recommendation for designation, property owners must receive a written approval (a Certificate of Appropriateness) for any exterior work until the City Council makes their final decision.

RECOMMENDATION:

Staff recommends that the Historic and Design Review Commission recommend approval of historic landmark designation of 828 Nevada based on finding a.

REQUEST:

A request for review by the HDRC regarding eligibility of the property located at 828 Nevada for landmark designation.

FINDINGS:

- a. On January 19, 2021, a demolition application was submitted to the Office of Historic Preservation by the property owner of the structure at 828 Nevada, located in the Denver Heights neighborhood of City Council District 2. OHP staff researched the property to determine eligibility during the 30-day review period provided by UDC 35-455. OHP contacted the owner on February 11, 2021, to inform him that preliminary evidence suggested the home may be significant and to arrange a site visit.
- b. If the HDRC agrees with the request, OHP will seek concurrence from the owner. If the owner is in favor of designation, the request may proceed in the designation process and will be presented to the Zoning Commission. In the case where an owner is not in favor, OHP must first forward the recommendation of the HDRC to City Council for consideration of a resolution to initiate the landmark designation process as outlined in UDC 35-606. If the HDRC does not agree with the request, a resolution from City Council to initiate the landmark designation will not be sought.
- c. DEMOLITION AND DESIGNATIONS COMMITTEE: The Demolition & Designation Committee (DDC) held a virtual site visit on February 24, 2021. Notes are included in the case file.
- d. HISTORIC CONTEXT: The property at 828 Nevada is a single-story Craftsman-style residence built in 1918 by Ed. Steves & Sons for John M. and Nona Tinsley. It is located in the Denver Heights neighborhood of City Council District 2. Jose Castro currently owns the property. The Tinsleys purchased the lot from William and Etta Lehr in 1917. William worked as a cashier for Ed. Steves & Sons; in 1918, the Tinsleys hired that firm, "composed of Albert Steves & Ernest Steves," to build their Craftsman-style home. Ed. Steves & Sons was founded in San Antonio in 1866 by Edward Steves and his sons Edward Jr., Albert, and Ernest. The company remains in business as Steves & Sons, Inc. Like most homeowners and renters on the 400 to 2200 blocks of Nevada, and many residents of Denver Heights at that time, the Tinsleys were Black people; they owned 828 Nevada as a rental property until 1940. One of the Tinsleys' renters was the Inge Family, who occupied the home in 1924 before moving across the street to 829 Nevada. George Jr and Alma Inge lived there until their deaths in 1973 and 1989, respectively; their son; George III, sold 829 Nevada in 1990. 828 Nevada retains many of the character-defining features of a Craftsman residence: clapboard siding, exposed rafter tails and triangular knee braces, multiple roof planes, a front-gabled partial-width porch, a continuous sill line, and a battered skirt also clad in clapboard. The block is also largely intact, with Craftsman the dominant style along the street. There are few examples contemporary infill on the block and some midcentury infill on adjacent blocks.
- e. SITE CONTEXT: The property at 828 Nevada is a single-story Craftsman-style residence built in 1918. It is located in the Denver Heights neighborhood of City Council District 2. The house is located on the south side of Nevada St on a block bounded to the north by Nevada, the east by S Monumental St, the south by Alabama St, and the west by S Pine St. The property is two blocks north of the Knob Hill Historic District, and about five blocks south of the Dignowity Hill Historic District. The property is enclosed by chain-link and wood fencing.

f. ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION: The house is clad in wood clapboard with a battered skirt below a continuous sill line. The composition-shingle roof is front-gabled with a separate front-gabled roof plane over a partial-width porch, and features wide eaves, exposed rafter tails, and triangular braces in the gables. The rear of the house is hipped. The porch, which dominates the north and primary elevation, is supported by tapered wood columns with decorative stickwork at the capitals, that meet a knee wall that partially encloses the porch. The modern paneled front door, with a metal storm door, is right of center on the porch. One-over-one wood windows are present either alone or in ganged pairs, with few remaining one-over-one wood screens. A porch at the southeast corner of the home has been enclosed with plywood, and has a modern sliding window on the south side. Character-defining features of 828 Nevada include a composition shingle front-gabled roof with separate front-gabled roof plane over partial-width porch, and hipped rear; exposed rafter tails; triangular knee braces in gables; clapboard siding and battered skirt; continuous sill line; one-over-one wood windows; one-over-one wood screens, where present; tapered wood columns with decorative stickwork at the capitals; and a clapboard-clad knee wall partially enclosing front porch.

g. EVALUATION: In order to be eligible for historic landmark designation, properties shall meet at least three (3) of the 16 criteria listed. Staff evaluated the structure against all 16 criteria and determined that it was consistent with UDC sec. 35-607(b):

1. Its value as a visible or archeological reminder of the cultural heritage of the community; 828 Nevada is located in an historically Black neighborhood; nearly all homeowners and renters on the 400 to 2200 blocks of Nevada were Black people. On the 800 block, a remarkable number of families continued to live in their homes from the 1910s through at least the late 1950s.

4. Its identification as the work of a master builder, designer, architect, or landscape architect whose individual work has influenced the development of the community, county, state, or nation; the house was built by Ed. Steves & Sons, a San Antonio company founded in 1866 that remains in business as Steves & Sons, Inc.

5. Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural style valuable for the study of a period, type, method of construction, or use of indigenous materials; the house is intact example of a Craftsman-style residence and retains its original footprint with only one modification (closed rear porch) and its character-defining features.

13. It bears an important and significant relationship to other distinctive structures, sites, or areas, either as an important collection of properties or architectural style or craftsmanship with few intrusions, or by contributing to the overall character of the area according to the plan based on architectural, historic or cultural motif; the property is located in an area staff finds to be an eligible local historic district, Denver Heights, an historically Black neighborhood.

h. The City offers a tax incentive for the substantial rehabilitation of historic properties because historic landmarks possess cultural and historical value and contribute to the overall quality and character of the City and its neighborhoods. If historic designation is approved, rehabilitation and restoration work may be eligible for this incentive. State and Federal tax incentives are also available for properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places and provide substantial relief for rehabilitation projects.

i. Per UDC Sec. 35-453, once the Commission makes a recommendation for designation, property owners must receive a written approval (a Certificate of Appropriateness) for any exterior work until the City Council makes their final decision.

RECOMMENDATION:

Staff recommends approval of a Finding of Historic Significance and direction to process a request on behalf of the HDRC to City Council to consider a resolution to initiate designation of 828 Nevada based on findings a through g.

2. Findings

The property at 828 Nevada is a single-story Craftsman-style residence built in 1918 by Ed. Steves & Sons for John M. and Nona Tinsley. It is located in the Denver Heights neighborhood of City Council District 2. Jose Castro currently owns the property.

The Tinsleys purchased the lot from William and Etta Lehr in 1917.¹ William worked as a cashier for Ed. Steves & Sons;² in 1918, the Tinsleys hired that firm, “composed of Albert Steves & Ernest Steves,” to build their Craftsman-style home.³ Ed. Steves & Sons was founded in San Antonio in 1866 by Edward Steves and his sons Edward Jr., Albert, and Ernest. By 1879, the firm carried an average of three million feet of lumber, and continued to grow as frame buildings rose in popularity. The company remains in business as Steves & Sons, Inc.⁴

The house first appears in the 1919 city directory as 834 Nevada;⁵ by 1921, the home was listed as 828 Nevada.⁶ By 1918, when the subject structure was built, the west half of the 800 block of Nevada was almost fully developed;⁷ houses on the east half of the block were constructed from the late 1910s and into the 20s. Like most homeowners and renters on the 400 to 2200 blocks of Nevada, and many residents of Denver Heights at that time, the Tinsleys were Black people.⁸ The Tinsleys owned 828 Nevada as a rental property until 1940, when they sold it to Henrietta R. Stevenson.⁹

One of the Tinsleys’ renters was the Inge Family, who occupied the home in 1924.¹⁰ George Inge, Jr, was born in Virginia;¹¹ his father was formerly enslaved and became a public school teacher in Charlottesville after emancipation and before opening a grocery store.¹² In 1918, George Jr was stationed at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio. After arriving here, he met and married Alma Keener, who was born in Houston and taught for the San Antonio School District.¹³ By 1926, the Inges moved across the street to 829 Nevada. George Jr and Alma lived there for more than 50 years; George Jr passed away in 1973,¹⁴ and Alma stayed in the home until her death in 1989.¹⁵ Their son, George III, sold 829 Nevada in 1990.¹⁶

The property first appears on the 1931 Sanborn Fire Insurance map, along with a rear garage at the southwest corner of the lot that has since been demolished. The footprint of the primary structure remains as it appears on this map; the only modification to the exterior is that the rear porch was enclosed. The house retains many of the character-defining features of a Craftsman residence: clapboard siding, exposed rafter tails and triangular knee braces, multiple roof planes, a front-gabled partial-width porch, a continuous sill line, and a battered skirt also clad in clapboard.¹⁷ The square columns retain their decorative details at the capital, and the structure appears to retain its original one-over-one wood windows along with a couple one-over-one wood screens. The block is also largely intact, with Craftsman the dominant style along the street. There are few examples contemporary infill on the block and some midcentury infill on adjacent blocks.

3. Architectural Description

The property at 828 Nevada is a single-story Craftsman-style residence built in 1918. It is located in the Denver Heights neighborhood of City Council District 2. The house is located on the south side of Nevada St on a block bounded to the north by Nevada, the east by S Monumental St, the south by Alabama St, and the west by S Pine St. The property is two blocks north of the Knob Hill Historic District, and about five blocks south of the Dignowity Hill Historic District. The property is enclosed by a chain-link fence on the north and west sides and about the north two-thirds of the east side; the chain-link fence on the north portion of the east side meets a wood privacy fence near the southeast corner of the home and continues along the south end of the lot. A short length of wood privacy fence meets the east side of the house at the north end of the enclosed porch and connects to the east fencing where the chain-link meets wood. There are chain-link gates at the driveway and sidewalk to the front porch. A concrete apron meets the gate, but there is no formal driveway beyond the gate, only dirt where cars have driven into the grass along the west side of the house. Other homes on the block either have full-width concrete driveways or the same informal dirt drives as the subject structure. There are some smaller tress at the rear of the house, and the lot is largely covered by grass.

The house is clad in wood clapboard with a battered skirt below a continuous sill line. The composition-shingle roof is front-gabled with a separate front-gabled roof plane over a partial-width porch, and features wide eaves, exposed rafter tails, and triangular braces in the gables. DDC SITE VISIT: 828 NEVADA

24 February 2021 | Call at 4 PM

Summary prepared by the Office of Historic Preservation's ScoutSA Program

Case History:

- Demolition request received 19 January 2021
- Staff site visit 23 February 2021

The property at 828 Nevada is a single-story Craftsman-style residence built c. 1924. It is located in the Denver Heights neighborhood of City Council District 2. Jose Castro currently owns the property. Its first occupants were George and Alma Inge; George was a barber, and Alma was a teacher. Like most homeowners and renters on the 400 to 2200 blocks of Nevada, the Inges were Black people.

The property first appears on the 1931 Sanborn Fire Insurance map, along with a rear garage at the southwest corner of the lot that has since been demolished. The footprint of the primary structure remains as it appears on this map; the only modification to the exterior is that the rear porch was enclosed. The house retains many of the character-defining features of a Craftsman residence: clapboard siding, exposed rafter tails and triangular knee braces, multiple roof planes, a front-gabled partial-width porch, a continuous sill line, and a battered skirt also clad in clapboard. The square columns retain their decorative details at the capital, and the structure appears to retain its original one-over-one wood windows along with a couple one-over-one wood screens. The block is also largely intact, with one example of contemporary infill on the block and some midcentury infill on adjacent blocks.

Eligible criteria under UDC Sec. 35-607(b):

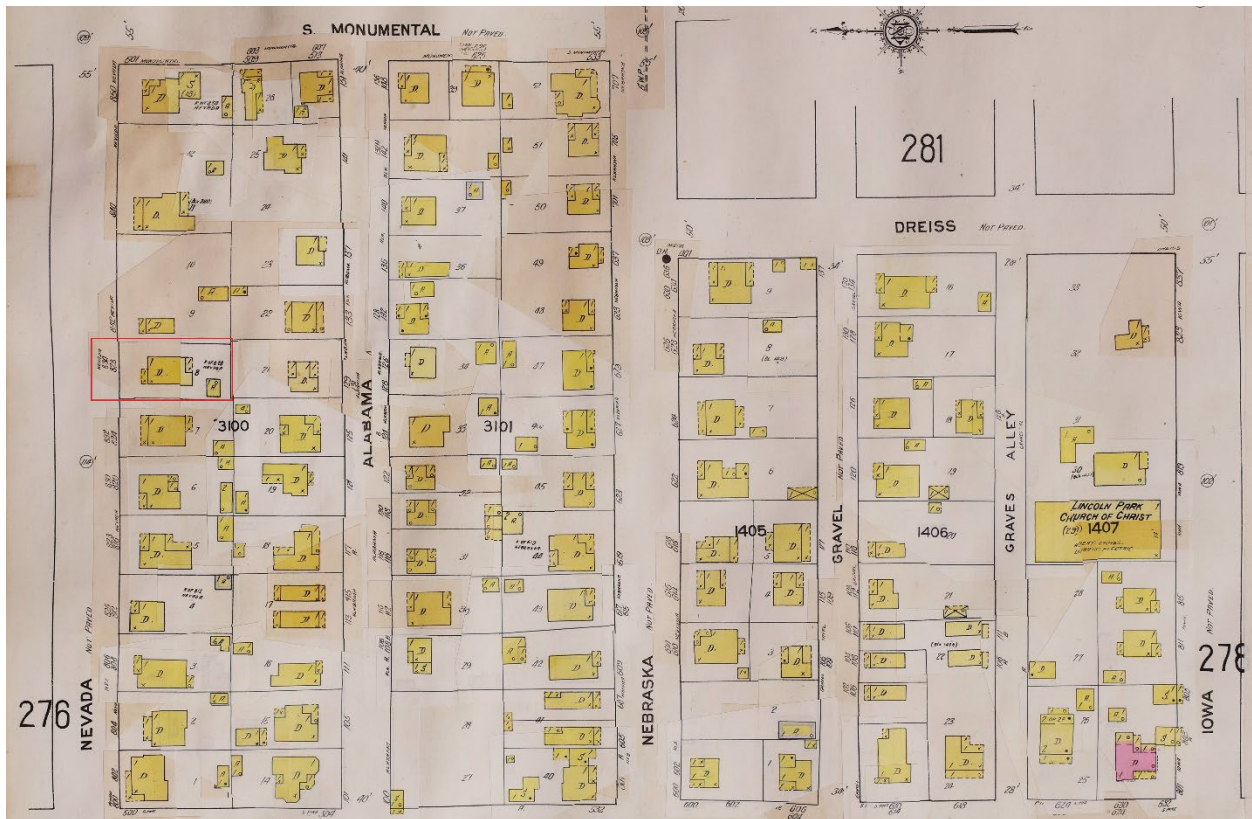

- 1. Its value as a visible or archeological reminder of the cultural heritage of the community, or national event; 828 Nevada is located in an historically Black neighborhood; nearly all homeowners and renters on the 400 to 2200 blocks of Nevada were Black people.
- 5. Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural style valuable for the study of a period, type, method of construction, or use of indigenous materials; the house is an example of a single-story; the house is intact example of a Craftsman-style residence and retains its original footprint with only one modification (closed rear porch) and its character-defining features.
- 13. It bears an important and significant relationship to other distinctive structures, sites, or areas, either as an important collection of properties or architectural style or craftsmanship with few intrusions, or by contributing to the overall character of the area according to the plan based on architectural, historic or cultural motif; the property is located in a neighborhood staff finds to be an eligible local historic district, Denver Heights.

Request for Review of Historic Significance

In attendance

- Commissioners: Jeff Fetzer (by phone)
- Staff: Jessica Anderson

Staff provided photos and videos of the interior and exterior of the subject structure along with a summary of staff's preliminary research prior to the meeting.

No commissioners were available for a planned call with the property owner, but Fetzer provided comments to staff by phone earlier in the day after reviewing preliminary findings, photos, and videos. The call was unrecorded.

Fetzer reported that the house reminds him of 212 E Dewey, but it's more in tact and with more significance due to its relationship to a family that helped develop the neighborhood. He said he would recommend designation to City Council and would only approve demolition if the owner provided compelling replacement plans.
