Patsy Inglet, President of the Bexar Audubon Society, spoke in favor of Item 4 noting that there was a decline of the bird population in North America. She added that the National Audubon Society recently issued a Climate Report entitled “Survival by Degrees” which indicated that 389 species were at risk of extinction from the rise of the global temperature. She thanked the Mayor and Council for their sustainable approach regarding the CAAP and their forethought to protect the quality of life in San Antonio.

Mobi Warren, Citizen Scientist, spoke in support of the CAAP. He added that he studies and collects data on Monarch Butterflies and other pollinators. He noted that pollinators serve as the base for all food systems and were impacted negatively by climate change.

Carlotta James, 50K Ultra Runner and Co-Founder of Monarch Ultra, and Pollinator Advocate, spoke in support of the CAAP. She indicated that she resided in Canada while she pursued the Monarch Ultra Project. Ms. James noted that climate change was adversely impacting the Monarch Butterflies and the pollinator population. She added that rising temperatures changed climate cues for Monarchs that threatened to diminish their migration and potentially endanger the species. Ms. James noted that deforestation and harmful chemicals further compound climate-induced stress on the Monarch population. Lastly, she added that runners were carrying a message of hope, inspiration, and possibility for change.

Rodney Fuentes, Film Maker and runner with the Monarch Ultra Project, spoke in favor of the CAAP. He noted that during his journey, he visits schools to inform students of the importance of Monarch Butterflies and the role of Pollinators. He added that students question the role of pollinators and many were not aware that Monarchs migrate south. He further noted that future generations must learn about the environment and how it was affected by climate change. He described his theory of an environmental tripod as follows:

1. One leg being the Citizens and Community Action that create and preserve habitats for all wild species and minimize garage and pollution
2. Second leg being Corporations and For-Profit Organizations that run sustainable businesses and reduce their environmental impact
3. Third leg being Governmental Environmental Policies and Legislatures which create platforms to facilitate and regenerate green space for a sustainable healthy community

Alan Montemayor spoke in favor of the CAAP and noted that he has resided in San Antonio for 63 years. He added that he has witnessed overcrowding and flooding issues in San Antonio. He noted that he was proud of the Mayor for calling for a Resolution in Support of the Paris Climate Accord. Additionally, Mr. Montemayor expressed his support of the CAAP and looked forward to providing input on how to implement the policies and goals of the CAAP.

Terry Burns, Chair of the San Antonio Sierra Club representing approximately 3,000 members, spoke in support of the CAAP. He noted that approval of the CAAP would provide the framework for making San Antonio a better place to live.

Jeff Arndt, President and CEO of VIA Metropolitan Transit, spoke in support of the CAAP. He used football as an analogy for implementing the CAAP describing the playbook and the series of downs and plays that march down the field toward the goal. He added that technology and economic circumstances must be considered noting that the field was green today, but if left unchecked, climate change would turn the field brown and withered. He joined the Mayor and Council on the field and stated that he was ready to play and asked the Mayor (coach) to put him on the field.

Amy Contreras applauded the Mayor and Council's efforts in the development of the CAAP. She added that it took the foresight and action of the Council to bring forth positive changes for the next generation.

Diana Lopez spoke in favor of the CAAP, noting that the process had taken 18 months to achieve the sustainable plan presented today. She added that many communities participated and provided input on the issues discussed in an open public forum. She expressed her support for the open and transparent process.

Wendell Fuqua, Member of the Sierra Club spoke in support of the CAAP. He noted that the City needed to mobilize against climate change. He added that the mobilization would only be as good as the efforts of the Council. He warned that CO2 emissions needed to be cut by 45% in order to reach carbon neutrality by 2050. He applauded the Council for implementing the CAAP and added that Council was headed in the right direction by being committed to the implementation of the CAAP.

Greg Hartman spoke with mixed feelings regarding the CAAP. He noted that the circle of compassion was limited in terms of money such as how much will implementation cost and how much the cost will be to do nothing. He added that when children are ill or when a family member needs treatment, people don't question how much the treatment would cost. They seek out the treatment first then worry about how to solve the issue.

David Fry spoke in opposition of the CAAP. He noted that there has always been climate change and that the vast majority had occurred without human intervention. He added that the business community did not support the CAAP and stated that it was a bad idea centered on false projections and no budgetary numbers.

Dr. Feme Osidele, Co-Chair of the SA Climate Ready Steering Committee, spoke in support of the CAAP. He thanked Councilmember Andrews-Sullivan for inviting him to speak at the District 2 Town Hall Meeting. He added that the cost of implementing the CAAP was equivalent to the cost of a three course meal with the menu items being choices not mandates. He noted that sometimes choice depended on menu process. Dr. Osidele added that 30 thousand hours volunteered by approximately 90 individuals who have served on the Steering Committee and Technical Working Groups since February 2018. He noted that the brilliant citizens and residents of San Antonio have devoted their time and advice which shaped the CAAP document being considered today. He noted that their impressive work should not go to waste and he thanked all involved for contributing to the CAAP.

Dr. John Murphy, Professor at UTSA and Principal Investor for the UTSA contribution to the CAAP Project Team, spoke in support of the CAAP. He noted that Climate Change was a complex global challenge and that the data showed the urgency in taking action. He added that researchers at UTSA were working in a variety of areas to scientifically address the issues and provide substantive input to community leaders to help them make informed policy decisions.

Russell Seal spoke in favor of the CAAP noting that he was proud to serve on the Energy and Buildings Committee as a Sierra Club Representative. He noted that Mayor Hardberger started 10 years ago by signing onto the Sierra Club Cool Cities Program. He added that within six months Mayor Hardberger rolled out with Community involvement from the builders, architects, and environmental communities to reduce energy uses. He complemented utilization of the equity lens to see single family homes become EV ready and Solar ready.

Yaneth Flores, with the Esperanza Peace and Justice Center, spoke in favor of the CAAP. She requested that the Council center the CAAP on those that are most impacted by the climate change crisis. She asked that the plan keep workers in mind that work outdoors for 8-12 hours per day. She included those that lack shelter to provide protection from the sun's harmful rays including the homeless population that are exposed to pollutants daily and do not have access to air condition to cool off. She recognized those whom rely on public transportation that endure waiting at an unsheltered bus stop in the middle of the Texas heat. She added that the plan must be shaped around those who are most vulnerable and inherently the plan would work for all.

Rudy Rodriguez, West Side Chamber of Commerce Board Member, spoke in support of the CAAP. He applauded the Council for having diverse dialogue over the past two years. He added that the Chamber reached unanimous consensus on renewable energy opportunities that stands on the three pillars of reliability, cost, and the impact on the carbon footprint. Mr. Rodriguez stated that the CAAP provided the platform for environmental responsibility to minimize the impact on the environment. He thanked the Council for allowing the public a voice within the process.

Mayor Nirenberg announced for the record that the City received a Resolution in Support of the 2019 CAAP from the West San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

Anne Englert stated that she was not against the CAAP but was concerned with the associated costs. She noted that since 2014, rates for SAWS and CPS, and property valuations continue to increase. She noted that she tries her best to conserve energy and water and has planted five news trees and maintains a small garden. She noted that she had installed solar panels, radiant barriers, and uses energy efficient appliances.

Will McLeod spoke in opposition of the CAAP. He stated that Council should focus on fixing streets instead of spending time and effort on the CAAP. He questioned the cost of implementing the plan and requested that CPS Energy be deregulated.

Kaiba White spoke in support of the CAAP. She noted that she served on the Energy and Building Committee. She added that the CAAP was a fluid document that required careful attention to ensure that the plan remained meaningful. She described the co-benefits including affordability, air quality improvement, and improved quality of life. She added that burning coal was not compatible with climate action, climate justice, or environment justice.

Anita Ledbetter, Co-Chair of the SA Climate Ready Plan, spoke in favor of the CAAP. She noted that in 2001 the City of San Antonio, CPS Energy, and Bexar County had the vision to create San Antonio Green which was an initiative to reduce emissions. She added climate change created hotter days, longer periods of drought, and more intense rainfall. She noted that the CAAP created opportunities for innovation, job creation, and economic growth.

Mario Bravo, representative of the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF), spoke in support of the CAAP.

He noted that the EDF was a non-profit entity that operated internationally and employed over 700 people. He added that the EDF was focused on market-based solutions and helped get innovative technology to the market. He noted that EDF was testing new technologies to find methane leaks faster and fix them sooner to reduce emissions. He added that next year EDF was partnering with Harvard University and the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory to launch a satellite that can detect methane leaks all over the worlds.

Jack M. Finger spoke in opposition in the CAAP and questioned the cost and the benefits. He added that the CAAP will require new renovated buildings that will be carbon neutral. He noted that it would add thousands of dollars to the cost of buying a home.

Carlos Basur, Senior Civilian at Joint Base San Antonio (JBSA), read a letter on behalf of General Lenderman. He noted that General Lenderman was mindful of the effects of climate-related events such as flooding, sea-level rises, droughts, extreme temperature changes, wind and wildfire. He added that JBSA Team Members participated on several committees regarding the CAAP and stand ready for a continued partnership in support of the CAAP. He thanked the Mayor and City Council for their support of JBSA.

Patrick Von Dolen spoke in opposition of the CAAP. He noted that it contained problematic issues and added that the CAAP would cost families thousands of dollars in additional energy costs. He noted that the CAAP would drive government expansion and stated that climate science was distorted. He provided a handout and presentation in opposition of the CAAP.

Leslie Province noted that she served on the Technical Working Group for the CAAP. She spoke in support of the CAAP adding that she would like to see a faster transition to renewable energy. She requested that equity be put at the center for those most vulnerable to climate change. She added that the CAAP affirms commitment to continuing and accelerating the path to innovate and improve, reduce pollution, increase energy efficiency, and improve quality of life.

Mayor Nirenberg stated that the action taken today regarding the CAAP was critical for the future of San Antonio. He noted that in 2017 one of his first acts as Mayor was to commit San Antonio to the goals outlined in the Paris Climate Agreement. He noted that the CAAP set the bold goal of making San Antonio Carbon Neutral by 2050. He added that a better transportation system, more efficient buildings, and 100% renewable energy was the future of San Antonio. He added that moving forward; he would work diligently to implement each and every item in the CAAP. He announced that he was creating a Council of Youth Ambassadors so that we never lose their voice and future administrations work to implement the CAAP framework.

Councilmember Sandoval noted that the impacts on human activity affect everything from the coral reefs to the pollinators to the growing seasons. She added that there was some uncertainty but something needed to be done to protect the community from the harms of climate change and to protect the future for those in San Antonio. She noted that approximately 50% of the actions contained in the CAAP are not climate actions; they are adaptation measures. She added that meant enhancing emergency preparedness, protecting public health systems, and protecting our infrastructure. Councilmember Sandoval stated that the other 41 strategies intended to reduce climate pollution and improves the quality of life.

Councilmember Gonzales recognized Carlotta James, the endurance runner from Canada, running to raise awareness for the Monarch Butterflies. She noted that her son Ian received a bicycle for his sixth birthday and that he had been riding his bike to school since he was four years old. She added that her husband escorted Ian seven miles away which took approximately 20 minutes riding their bikes. Councilmember Gonzales noted that climate action required actions such as safe routes to ride bikes and other options besides driving a car. She added that it takes everyday changes in our culture to be successful with the implementation of the CAAP.

Councilmember Gonzales asked if the CAAP contained any mention about water quality. Mr. Melnick reported that water quality was in the adaptation side of the CAAP; and preserving the Edwards Aquifer during times of droughts. He added that included capturing water that was clean and drinkable. He added that the CAAP covered more than energy such as air quality, mobility, affordability, equity, and the natural environment.

Councilmember Rocha Garcia questioned who would serve on the Regional Climate Council. Mr. Melnick reported that they were in early discussions and would look to the Mayor to provide leadership on the proposed Council. Councilmember Rocha Garcia asked what the Benchmarking Disclosure Program he referenced was. Mr. Melnick reported that it was a diverse group of stakeholders which included 25-30 cities in the United States that have similar programs. He added that the goal was to have property owners benchmark their energy and water consumption; then tie them to incentives to reduce consumption.

Councilmember Treviño recognized the success of the Under One Roof Program which is a roof repair program that layers on the ability to provide relief from the effects of the urban heat island.

Councilmember Andrews-Sullivan noted that approving the CAAP was not just about approving a plan; it's a movement; a call to action; progressing forward to Climate Action. She noted that during Ozone Action Days vulnerable children and adults with breathing problems are effected. She added that the implementation of the CAAP required a united front. She stated that the word equity was used too freely.

Councilmember Cabello Havrda stated that approving the CAAP was just the beginning of the roadmap that required a multitude of strategies identified in the plan. She added that the CAAP was a project of extensive community engagement from a diverse coalition of stakeholders such as businesses, neighborhood leaders, non-profits, and government agencies that worked together to build a framework. She noted that framework would ensure economic prosperity and improved quality of life.

Councilmember Pelaez thanked the Mayor and Council for allowing him to appear via video conference. He committed to his children to give climate change the prominence that it deserved. He thanked the Scientists for studying the effects of climate change. He thanked Toyota, Apple, HEB, General Motors, Ernst & Young, USAA, and other employers for supporting the CAAP. He recognized Mayor Nirenberg for working tirelessly on the CAAP and stated that this was a perfect example of how a single person started the conversation, gathered community support, and motivated all.

Councilmember Courage noted that approving the CAAP was just the beginning and that it would be implemented in phases. He added that the CAAP was not a plan of mandates telling businesses what to do. He stated that the CAAP does ask the community to think about solutions to partner with others to provide a better future. He added that he hoped CPS Energy would find a way to close the Spruce One Coal Plant by 2025 and then close the Spruce Two Coal Plant by 2030. He added that they must find, develop, and invest in alternative energy sources including transitional sources of natural gas to replace coal. He added that if we take those steps, it would help provide a clean, healthy, and safe environment for our community.

Councilmember Perry spoke in opposition of the CAAP noting that the cost was lacking from the plan. He requested that the proposed cost be presented or provided to his office. He agreed with several parts of the CAAP such as planting trees and noted that he was doing the same in the Northwest Corridor in District 10. He added the Environmental Plan identified within the CAAP has costs associated with it. He requested detailed costs associated with the Environmental Plan. He noted that the City had several ongoing projects that protect the environment such as the Howard Peak Greenway Trails, Riverwalk Improvements, Drainage Programs, and the creation of parks across Council Districts. He stated that he could not support an open-ended plan with no cost boundaries or limitations identified. He read portions of the CPS Energy News Release entitled “CPS Energy will carefully align its Flexible Path to the CAAP while balancing the tried and true with the new for San Antonio’s energy future.” The news release will be included as part of the records of this meeting.

Councilmember Viagran spoke in support of the CAAP and noted the importance of planning to ensure successful implementation. She acknowledged several ongoing projects such as the Mission Reach, Greenway Projects, Tree Ordinance, and the Sustainability Plan of SA Tomorrow; all of which were protecting the environment. Councilmember Viagran asked how the City was working with independent School Districts and Pre-K 4 SA to incorporate environmental issues into the school’s curriculum. She added that children must be exposed to environmental issues early on in their education.

Councilmember Sandoval moved to approve the CAAP. Councilmember Viagran seconded the motion. The motion prevailed by the following vote:

- 19. Ordinance approving a contract with the Center for Common Concerns/HomeBase in the amount of $128,898.00 to conduct a comprehensive Homeless Strategic Plan for the period of October 3, 2019 through September 30, 2020. Mayor Nirenberg called upon Molly Cox with the Housing Justice San Antonio. She spoke in favor of Item 19 approving a contract with the Center of Common Concerns/HomeBase to conduct a Comprehensive Homeless Strategic Plan. She noted that the Homeless Strategic Plan will help fill the gaps that exist with homeless agencies. She added that some homeless agencies have been overwhelmed by the growing number of homeless people in San Antonio.

Mayor Nirenberg exited the meeting and Mayor Pro-Tem Gonzales presided over the meeting.

Councilmember Perry asked why the city was considering a company from San Francisco California to conduct a Comprehensive Homeless Strategic Plan. He added that California had an extensive homeless problem.

Ms. Woosley reported that the company the city was recommending was one of six applicants that submitted proposals in response to the solicitation. She added that the evaluation committee went through an intense evaluation process to include interviewing all six applicants.

Councilmember Perry asked why city staff within the Department of Health Services could not gather data to draft the Homeless Comprehensive Plan. He noted that city staff was capable of performing the task instead of hiring a consultant. He added that the consultant does not know San Antonio and the nuances associated with the homeless population. Councilmember Perry asked what the performance period was for this project. Ms. Woosley reported that the performance period was six months. Councilmember Perry stated that city staff could do a better job versus bringing in a consultant. Ms. Woosley reported that her staff did not have the capacity to draft the proposed Homeless Comprehensive Plan.

Councilmember Viagran asked if the proposed Homeless Comprehensive Plan would include an evaluation of how the homeless response system was working. Ms. Woosley reported that was correct. Councilmember Viagran noted that homeless issue was complex and layered from encampments to mental health issues.

Councilmember Treviño asked how many entities responded to the solicitation. Ms. Woosley reported that six entities submitted proposals for consideration. Councilmember requested a briefing when the draft Homeless Comprehensive Plan was completed. Ms. Woosley reported that she would provide a briefing in April 2020.

Councilmember Pelaez noted the importance of hiring the most qualified entity to draft the proposed Homeless Comprehensive Plan. He added that San Antonio was often used to benchmark projects with other cities in the nation.

Councilmember Rocha Garcia questioned how the proposed Homeless Comprehensive Plan would help those on the verge of homelessness. Ms. Woosley reported that they were starting with homeless prevention to deter people from becoming homeless. Councilmember Rocha Garcia noted a family of eight were displaced due to a fire and asked if the proposed homeless plan would provide assistance for similar situations. Ms. Woosley reported that the proposed plan would contain a provision to help people in crisis.

Councilmember Viagran moved to approve staff's recommendation. Councilmember Treviño seconded the motion. The motion prevailed by the following vote:

Raquel Moreno spoke on behalf of the applicant Eddie Saenz whom would like to build duplexes on Darby Street. She added that the duplexes would be a great addition to the neighborhood.

Adriana Garcia spoke in opposition of Z-15 noting that the area was for single family homes. She added that multifamily homes would bring congestion and change the culture of the area.

Richard Ibanez spoke in opposition of Z-15 noting that he lives across from where the proposed duplexes might be built. He added that there are already apartments located in the area and was against multifamily housing.

Rosalinda Garza spoke in opposition of Z-15 noting that she does not support duplexes being built in the area. She added that her neighbors have owned their homes for many years and do not welcome changing the character of the community.

Naomi Garza spoke in opposition of Z-15 noting that she lives next door to the proposed area. She added that she does not want high density duplexes next door to the home she owns.
