Statement of Significance

72015232

1417 W. Salinas
San Antonio, Texas

The house at 1417 W. Salinas was constructed in the early 20th century (ca. 1924). It does not appear on the 1912 Sanborn map, but the property address appears in the 1924-25 City Directory. The property was first identified in San Antonio newspapers in 1924 as a 4-room rental property available through Conness Realty Company (San Antonio Express, 6/6/1924). It was advertised for rent again in 1928 with "lights, water, gas, new paper, paint, near I & GN Depot" (San Antonio Express, 10/7/1928). Throughout the 20th century the property was occupied by a variety of tenants and owners.

The house is small bungaloid form with a cross-gabled roof, inset porch, and clapboard siding. A rear gabled addition of historic age appears to have been added in the early to mid-20th century. The house has retained original one-over-one wood sash windows, original transoms over both front entrances, and original square wood porch supports with Craftsman-influenced capitals. The house, although vacant, has retained its original setting and context and is located on a residential street of similar historic-age homes. It is also located immediately adjacent to the St. James A.M.E. Church.

This house represents an intact example of an early 20th-century house with few changes and alterations. The house at 1417 W. Salinas meets the following criteria for local landmark designation:

Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural style valuable for the study of a period, type, method of construction, or use of indigenous materials [35-607(b)5];

Its historical, architectural, or cultural integrity of location, design, materials, and workmanship [35-607(b)8];

It is an important example of a particular architectural type or specimen [35-607(b)12];

It represents a resource, whether natural or man-made, which greatly contributes to the character or image of a defined neighborhood or community area [36-607(b)15].
