COPIES TO: Sheryl Sculley, City Manager; Erik Walsh, Incoming City Manager; Leticia Vacek, City Clerk; Andy Segovia, City Attorney; Ben Gorzell, Chief Financial Officer; Christopher Callanen, Assistant to City Council
SUBJECT: Homeowner Tax Relief
DATE: February 20, 2019

Issue Proposed for Consideration

We ask for your support for the inclusion of the following item on the agenda of the earliest available meeting of the Governance Committee:

Conduct research to establish a General Homestead Tax Exemption and increasing the over 65 and Disabled Exemption for City of San Antonio in order to give homeowners meaningful tax relief and promote home ownership.

Brief Background

Homeownership is the cornerstone of preserving neighborhoods. It is also the greatest tool for creating and preserving wealth for families. However, research conducted by the Mayor's Housing Policy Taskforce offers concerning data. Overall homeownership rates have fallen from 61% in 2005 to 54% in 2016. Only 12% of all the city's new households (between 2005 and 2016) purchased a home, whereas 88% became renters. For San Antonio, this means a loss of investment opportunity in the stability and quality of life for residents and the community.

This is likely happening due to the fact that home prices in San Antonio continue to rise while incomes remain close to stagnant. For nearly two decades, San Antonio's housing costs have increased faster than the Area Median Income (AMI). Between 2005 and 2016, the median sales price of home increased by an average of 4.7% per year while the city's AMI increased by an average of just 1.9% per year.

Tax Code Section 11.13(n) allows any taxing unit the option to decide locally to offer a residence homestead exemption of up to 20 percent of a property's appraised value. The local option exemption cannot be less than $5,000.

COUNCIL CONSIDERATION REQUEST

Of the seven largest cities in the State of Texas, San Antonio is the only city that does not offer a homestead tax exemption. Previous attempts to enact a city homestead exemption were unsuccessful but we believe now is the appropriate time to act given economic factors that are burdensome to first time homebuyers and existing homeowners such as increasing housing costs, increasing mortgage interest rates, increasing utility fees and increasing property values which results in higher taxes.

It is our expectation that a general homestead exemption will provide the greatest support for working families and young adults that are entering the workforce.
