In order to be eligible for historic landmark designation, properties shall meet at least three (3) of the criteria listed. Additionally, all designated landmarks and districts shall demonstrate clear delineation of the legal boundaries of such designated resources.
- b. Criteria for Evaluation.
 3. Its identification with a person or persons who significantly contributed to the development of the community, county, state, or nation;
 5. Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural style valuable for the study of a period, type, method of construction, or use of indigenous materials;
 11. It is distinctive in character, interest or value: strongly exemplifies the cultural, economic, social, ethnic, or historical heritage of San Antonio, Texas or the United States;
 13. It bears an important and significant relationship to other distinctive structures, sites, or areas, either as an important collection of properties or architectural style or craftsmanship with few intrusions, or by contributing to the overall character of the area according to the plan based on architectural, historic or cultural motif.

FINDINGS:

- a. The request for landmark designation was initiated by the property owner.
- b. HISTORIC CONTEXT: The property at 413 E Mistletoe Ave is a one-story, single-family Craftsman residence built in 1914 for Fred C. Luna by the West End Lumber Company. It is located in the Tobin Hill neighborhood of City Council District 1. Yvonne M. Gonzales currently owns the property. The initial subdivision of E Mistletoe and E Magnolia avenues, originally called Broad and Rural streets, respectively, occurred in 1913 as part of Sarah F Ostrom's Addition, originally purchased by Jeremiah Brown from Sarah F. Ostrom in 1887. E Mistletoe began at McCullough St and ended at Rock Quarry Rd, now N St. Mary's. After the city purchased Rock Quarry Rd from Ostrom, the neighborhood was known as Rock Quarry, and remained so at least until the mid-1990s. Prior to 1914, Lot 11 on which the subject property sits was part of a double lot addressed 239 and 241 Broad St, owned by E and Arthela Tuller. In 1914, the Tullers sold Lot 11 to Fred C. Luna, who contracted the West End Lumber Company to build the subject structure. The Lunas owned and operated the Rock Quarry Meat Market, later listed as Fred Luna Market, located at 1705 Jones Ave. Fred lived on Mistletoe until his death on April 9, 1965; staff was unable to determine Mary's year of death, but Fred's obituary implies she passed before him. Ownership of the property was transferred to the Lunas' daughters in 1974. Quickly after establishing ownership, Sofia E. (Luna) Gomez, Stella M. (Luna) Haynes, and Mildred H. (Luna) Smith deeded ownership of the property to their sister Marie (Luna) Rodriguez. In 2003, Marie deeded the property to her daughter Yvonne Marie Gonzales, the current owner.
- c. SITE CONTEXT: The property at 413 E Mistletoe Ave is a one-story, single-family Craftsman residence built in 1914. It is located in the Tobin Hill neighborhood of City Council District 1. Its block is bounded to the south by E Mistletoe Ave, the west by Carleton Ct, the north by E Magnolia Ave, and the east by Kings Ct followed closely by N St. Mary's St. The neighborhood is surrounded by local historic districts: Monte Vista to the north and west, Tobin Hill and E French Place to the south, and River Road to the east. The north side of E Mistletoe Ave on this block lacks sidewalks, and houses are set about 15 feet back from the right-of-way. The lot is heavily landscaped with old-growth trees and bushes; the front yard is framed by a white wood picket fence with a gravel ribbon drive to the east and a concrete sidewalk leading from a gate in the fence to the front door.
- d. ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION: The property has a front-gabled composition-shingle roof with wide eaves; rafter tails are exposed on the rear mass of the house. Clapboard siding covers the house from eaves to grade. The main front mass has a continuous sill line above the battered skirt and below one-over-one wood windows. A number of windows retain their historic six-over-one wood screens. The front porch is set below massive gable with a vent centered below the peak and with tapered columns and pilasters atop a solid knee-height wall. The columns and pilasters have geometric designs at the capital, typical of Craftsman-style homes. The porch decking is wood, but the front steps appear to be poured-in-place concrete. The front door, with side and transom lights and a wood-frame screen door, sits left of center; right of center is an oversized one-over-one wood window with one-over-one sidelights and one-over-one-wood screens. Character defining features of 413 E Mistletoe Ave include its front-facing gable, columns and pilasters with geometric design at the capitals

- e. EVALUATION: In order to be eligible for historic landmark designation, properties shall meet at least three (3) of the 16 criteria listed. Staff evaluated the structure against all 16 criteria and determined that it was consistent with UDC sec. 35-607(b):
 - 3. Its identification with a person or persons who significantly contributed to the development of the community, county, state, or nation; the house was built for Fred C. and Mary Rodriguez Luna, early Rock Quarry residents who also operated a business in the neighborhood, and remains in the Luna family.
 - 5. Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural style valuable for the study of a period, type, method of construction, or use of indigenous materials; the structure is an example of the Craftsman style.
 - 11. It is distinctive in character, interest or value; strongly exemplifies the cultural, economic, social, ethnic or historical heritage of San Antonio, Texas or the United States; the property, owned by the same family since it was built, contributes to a pattern of multigenerational ownership of homes in San Antonio.
 - 13. It bears an important and significant relationship to other distinctive structures, sites, or areas, either as an important collection of properties or architectural style or craftsmanship with few intrusions, or by contributing to the overall character of the area according to the plan based on architectural, historic or cultural motif; the building is located in the Tobin Hill neighborhood in an area not included in the Tobin Hill local historic district but which has been identified by staff as an eligible local historic district. Were the neighborhood to pursue designation, the home would be considered contributing.
- f. If the HDRC approves the Finding of Historic Significance, then the recommendation for designation is submitted to the zoning commission. The zoning commission will schedule a hearing and then forward its recommendation to the City Council. City Council has the ultimate authority to approve the historic designation zoning overlay.
- g. Per UDC Sec. 35-453, once the commission makes a recommendation for designation, property owners must receive a written approval (a Certificate of Appropriateness) for any exterior work until the City Council makes their final decision.

RECOMMENDATION:

Staff recommends approval of a finding of historic significance and that the Historic and Design Review Commission should recommend approval for the landmark designation of 413 E Mistletoe Ave to the Zoning Commission and to the City Council based on findings a through e.

Statement of Significance

Property Address: 413 E Mistletoe Ave

1. Application Details

Applicant: Yvonne Gonzales

Type: Historic Landmark Designation

Date Received: 7 November 2019

2. Findings

The property at 413 E Mistletoe Ave is a one-story, single-family Craftsman residence built in 1914 for Fred C. Luna by the West End Lumber Company. It is located in the Tobin Hill neighborhood of City Council District 1. Yvonne M. Gonzales currently owns the property.

Tobin Hill is located just north of downtown San Antonio. It is bordered to the north by Monte Vista and Trinity University, to the west by San Pedro Avenue and San Antonio College, to the east by Highway 281 and Pearl Brewery, and to the south by Interstate 35 and the River North District. A 2005 survey effort in Tobin Hill identified this block as eligible for designation as a local historic district.

The initial subdivision of E Mistletoe and E Magnolia avenues, originally called Broad and Rural streets, respectively, occurred in 1913 as part of Sarah F Ostrom's Addition, originally purchased by Jeremiah Brown from Sarah F. Ostrom in 1887. The Ostrom Homestead and farm sat just east of the plat, between the not-yet-constructed Quarry Road (now N St. Mary's Street) and the Upper Labor Ditch or acequia. Several homes in the neighborhood predate this subdivision, some of which are still extant on the north side of E Mistletoe Ave west of Carleton. E Mistletoe began at McCullough St and ended at Rock Quarry Rd, now N St. Mary's. After the city purchased Rock Quarry Rd from Ostrom, the neighborhood was known as Rock Quarry, and remained so at least until the mid-1990s.

Construction of new homes in the 1910s and 1920s was rapid, reflecting the city's growth during this period. By 1924, both E Mistletoe and E Magnolia received their contemporary names.¹ Home sizes and styles vary along both streets. There is not a cohesive architectural statement, but the homes represent the styles popular at the time of their construction in the early twentieth century. Good examples of Folk Victorian, Tudor Revival, Craftsman, and Spanish Eclectic are present throughout the neighborhood.

Prior to 1914, Lot 11 on which the subject property sits was part of a double lot² addressed 239 and 241 Broad St. According to city directories, the main house, situated at the southwest corner of Lot 12, and a pair of rear accessory structures, situated at the northwest corner of Lot 11, carried different addresses though they shared the parcel. The homes were built for the E and Arthela Tuller, who first rented the rear structures before family members R & Willie Tuller moved in.³

CITY OF SAN ANTONIO OFFICE OF HISTORIC PRESERVATION

In 1914, the Tullers sold Lot 11 to Fred C. Luna,⁴ who contracted the West End Lumber Company to build the subject structure.⁵ Staff was unable to determine when the two rear accessory structures were demolished, though they were present on the 1951 Sanborn Fire Insurance maps.⁶ Further research may provide clarification.

Fred C. Luna lived at 413 E Mistletoe with his wife Mary (nee Rodriguez, alternately Maria), who he married in 1904. Their granddaughter, the current owner of 413 E Mistletoe Ave, reports that Mary was a descendent of Canary Islanders.⁷ The Lunas owned and operated the Rock Quarry Meat Market,⁸ later listed as Fred Luna Market, located at 1705 Jones Ave. Fred lived on Mistletoe until his death on April 9, 1965; staff was unable to determine Mary's year of death, but Fred's obituary implies she passed before him.⁹

According to city directory research, the Lunas' daughter Sofia and her husband Manuel Gomez lived in the property after Fred's death until at least 1976. The Lunas did not leave wills, so ownership was transferred to the Lunas' daughters through an affidavit of heirship supported by Naomi Lamb, submitted to the county on July 21, 1974.¹⁰ Quickly after establishing ownership, Sofia E. (Luna) Gomez, Stella M. (Luna) Haynes, and Mildred H. (Luna) Smith deeded ownership of the property to their sister Marie (Luna) Rodriguez.¹¹ In 2003, Marie deeded the property to her daughter Yvonne Marie Gonzales, the current owner.¹²

The front door, with side and transom lights and a wood-frame screen door, sits left of center; right of center is an oversized one-over-one wood window with one-over-one sidelights and one-over-one-wood screens.

The east elevation has two one-over-one wood windows with a smaller one-over-one window between, equally spaced along the first section. A rear protruding mass has a one-over-one wood window with six-over-one wood screen on its south side and four ganged one-over-one wood windows on the east side; three windows have six-over-one screens, but the last has burglar bars to protect a window air conditioning unit.

The rear and northern elevation has a door at center below a shed roof that opens onto a wood porch. The northernmost mass of the west elevation has three ganged one-over-one wood windows with six-over-six wood screens, followed by a smaller one-over-one window. The west elevation of the main mass has four one-over-one wood windows; three have wood screens while the fourth has a burglar bars to protect a window air conditioning unit.

Character-defining features of 413 E Mistletoe Ave include:

- Front-facing gable
- Columns and pilasters with geometric design at the capitals
- Eaves-to-grade clapboard siding with continuous sill lines where present
- One-over-one wood windows and one-over-one or six-over-one wood screens where present
- Gravel ribbon drive

Statement of Significance:

Property Address: 413 E. Mistletoe

Legal Description: NCB 863 BLK 3 LOT 11

The house is in the old Rock Quarry Neighborhood, which was adjacent to Brackenridge Park, near to the Bexar County Poor Farm, and near Rock Quarry Road, now North St. Mary's St. It is near Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, a religious center of the old middle class neighborhood. Streets in the neighborhood originally had such names as Pastores, Avenida Diaz, Olympian, Rural, Layer, and Providence. The eastern part of the area was much changed with the construction of I-37.¹

The history of the house begins in 1904, when Fred C. Luna (1882–1965) and Mary Rodriguez (d. 1958) were married in San Antonio². In 1914 Fred Luna purchased lot 11 on Broad Ave., near Rock Quarry Road, from R. Tuller, a railroad switchman. In 1914, he entered into a Builders and Mechanics Lien³ with the West End Lumber Co. to build a house. And in 1915 the San Antonio City Directory lists Fred and Mary Luna as residents at 241 Broad. Fred is also listed as the proprietor of the Luna Rock Quarry Meat Market, at 1705 Jones Ave.

House number and street name shifts occurred in the 1920s: in 1921 the address was 313 Broad Ave.; and in 1924 the address became 413 E. Mistletoe Ave. In 1927 the meat market became known as the Fred Luna Market.

Fred and Mary Luna had a family, and in 1936, their daughter, Marie Luna (b. 1916), married Frank R. Gonzalez (b.1906).⁴

Over the years, the spelling of real estate investor and realtor Frank R. Gonzalez name altered to Gonzales.⁵ He formed the Frank R. Gonzales Realty Co.⁶ and became an active member of the Mexican Chamber of Commerce⁷.

In 1965 Fred Luna died, and in 1974 the Luna daughters deeded the house at 413 E. Mistletoe to their sister Marie Luna Gonzales.^{8,9} However, it's probable that sister Sofia Luna Gomez and her husband lived in the house until their deaths. Other family members resided in close-by areas in the northern part of the Tobin Hill neighborhood.

In 1983, Frank R. Gonzalez died¹⁰ and his daughter, Yvonne, took over the real estate business¹¹.

Finally, in 2003, Marie Luna Gonzales, Frank's widow (Yvonne's mother) deeded the house to Yvonne Gonzalez.¹²

The house, located in the old Rock Creek Quarry Neighborhood, has been in the possession of the Luna family since it was built in 1914 (i.e., 105 years). The family lived in it and, in later years, rented it out. However, it was always well-maintained and became a stable presence on E. Mistletoe. It is a contributing property on a street deemed to have historic significance by the Office of Historic Preservation.

4. Landmark Criteria

The property meets the following criteria under UDC 35-607(b);

5. Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural style valuable for the study of a period, type, method of construction, or use of indigenous materials; – This house shows characteristics of the Craftsman Style of architecture, including a large gabled front porch, battered porch columns and skirt, and wide roof overhangs. The column capitals show Craftsman decorative effects. The house also shows characteristics of earlier architectural styles including front door side-lites and transom and ganged windows of unequal size.

11. It is distinctive in character, interest or value; strongly exemplifies the cultural, economic, social, ethnic or historical heritage of San Antonio, Texas or the United States; - The house was built in an area known in the early 1900s as the Rock Quarry Neighborhood, which contained housing for workers at the local rock quarry and employees of local businesses. Fred Luna, its builder, owned a meat market, later a grocery store in the neighborhood. It is a well-kept example of pre-First World War architecture in the neighborhood. The house is still owned by the family who built it in 1914.

12. It is an important example of a particular architectural type or specimen; - The house shows distinct Craftsman Style decorative effects, including battered porch columns and skirt and decoration at the tops of the porch columns. Its front door, however has side-lites and a transom which hark back to Victorian styles.

15. It represents a resource, whether natural or man-made, which greatly contributes to the character or image of a defined neighborhood or community area. – The house is a unique part of a neighborhood which is over 100 years old. Together it and its neighbors form a picture of the Rock Quarry Neighborhood in the early 1900s.

Architecture

The house at 413 E. Mistletoe has architectural details that place it in the earlier part of the Arts and Crafts movement in San Antonio. It is a front gabled bungalow, rectangular in plan, with overhanging eaves and clapboard cladding. It has a full front porch with square, slightly battered columns (3 at corners, 1 on either side of central steps – 8 total) set on a knee-wall porch railing. There are pilasters at the back of the porch. Both columns and pilasters have Craftsman Style decorative capitals. The front door has lites on both sides and a transom above. Although their presence indicates an earlier era, they are made in the restrained, very simple Arts and Crafts Style. Also, the three windows in the front façade are set as one large window with a narrower window on each side. The house has the same set back from the street as adjacent houses. There is a ribbon driveway at one side. The house appears today much as it must have looked in 1914, when it was built.

Hi Jessica & Jenny,

Real quick, I want to let you know that I 100% support this designation. I intend to submit a statement and attend the hearing. I'm sure that Ricki will send a statement on behalf of the Association as well.

Thank you for keeping us updated!

I wanted to forward you a document I found that pertains to our area of Tobin Hill (attached). Yvonne shared this with me in 2017. I had a hard time finding it, but it was in a box in my garage after all. I hope you can use this for this and future designations.

Thanks,
Anisa

Good morning.

The Office of Historic Preservation received an owner-initiated application for landmark designation of the structure at 413 E Mistletoe in the Tobin Hill neighborhood of District 1; see attached photos. The case for designation will be reviewed by the Historic and Design Review Commission (HDRC) on Wednesday, December 4, no earlier than 4:30 PM at 1901 S Alamo.

If you'd like to provide a letter to include in the case file for this owner-initiated designation, please do so by Monday, November 25. You can email it to me or drop off your letter to the OHP counter at 1901 S Alamo.

Thanks!
Jessica
